PRESIDENT'S MINUTE

This time of year you would expect that the pace of our sport would start to slow and we would be looking more toward Fall, raking leaves, school supplies, and winterizing....a horrible thought. I am pleased to say that isn't the case with Top Cats. Our schedule remains active, thanx to those who have stepped up to coordinate events and rides for their fellow Top Cats.

We just came off of a great Sturgis Bike Week thanx to Bard Board, an enjoyable ride for those not in Sturgis and another Hot Dog night thanx to Larry Scalzitti, a Wounded Warrior Ride to Mokena, IL, and a very educational briefing on AMA Noise Measurement and Standards by George Barrington, our local AMA Congressman. But....

All of that pales in comparison to what's coming up this month. We'll have....

A fantastic ride planned by Russ Peiffer to the Bike Show and HOG Rally at the HD Museum,

A super ride to the Cantigny Museum for a tour and a Revolutionary War reenactment, led by Rich Flynn,

Our annual Progressive Dinner Ride hosted by Noelle & Gene Rigsby, Theresa and Russ Peiffer, Joy & Larry Johnson, and Mary Walters, another great Hot Dog Night thanx to Larry Scalzitti,

KAUTION KORNER

Safety PART I

By Mike 'Motorcycle' Bradbury
Senior Road Captain

In order to write an article you need a topic. Duh! So my article started with this major dilemma like perhaps others may have experienced who have done this before. And while the Kaution Korner Safety Article narrows that down a bit to the subject of Motorcycle Safety I still struggled deciding on the topic. I had a few ideas like the safety merits of riding with underwear on vs. not wearing underwear. I think those merits are glaring and obvious. And I probably couldn't stretch that into an entire article anyways. It probably wouldn't fit this purpose well. And it could rub people the wrong way.

Seriously, when I first started driving a motorcycle on my 1996 A.C.E. Honda Shadow, I started riding more and more with larger groups. I was doing the big charity rides (i.e The Little Angels, Toys For Tots, Love Inc., etc.) and I saw some crazy stuff and it made me realize that safe group riding is not an automatic undertaking. Safe motorcycle and group riding takes intent and effort. So I started to question what exactly is meant by Motorcycle Safety. This is fairly clear and obvious so simply put, I define safe Motorcycle driving as operating my motorcycle in a manner that is not harmful to myself and those around me.

Now with that definition, how do I do it? How do I operate my Motorcycle safely? I offer here some of the basic guidelines I use to hopefully achieve the operation of my 2010 Harley-Davidson Street Glide or any motorcycle I drive in the best way that is not harmful to myself or those around me. These are some of my recommendations for the Safety PART I.

Practice – Practice what you learn. The best thing to do after your training is to become a practitioner and to do what you learned. But sometimes you need to work on a maneuver to gain confidence and practice builds that. Practice will also help to identify your weakness and indicates what you need to work and focus on when you practice. Take care, depending on what you are practicing to have a dedicated area like an empty parking lot if needed for the type of action you are practicing. Maneuvers like high speed braking must be performed legally when you have plenty of room on empty roads without traffic. Use common sense and caution when practicing since these are not all actions you may have mastered yet.

Awareness – Awareness of a lot of elements contributes to the overall safe operation of your bike. Awareness of your instrument readings, velocity, direction, balance, sound, vibrations, feel all contribute to the inputs coming from your bike which are telling you the state of things. The next level is similar to fighter pilots and is called Situational Awareness. This is where you are gauging where you are relative to all the other traffic and road activity and conditions surrounding you. You are aware of your “situation” in this sphere of activity but now you are tracking this changing picture so you predict, track and react to avoid harmful situations. Another analogy is like playing a chess game where you are trying to predict your opponents next 2 or 3 moves. To do this you must scan ahead and not get stuck just focusing on the few feet in front of you. You need to have an expanded horizon to increase your available reaction time for any particular traffic situation.

A Top Cat You Should Know!

Hello Top Cats!

Another great month is quickly coming to an end and my article is due! The two people I had tagged for this month have decided to seek adventure outside of Illinois so we'll have to read about them in future issues. My guess is that they went looking for someplace that has more rider-friendly temperatures and I wish them luck and cool breezes!

So this month we will learn a little bit about a fairly new member to Top Cats. One half of the Dynamic Duo known as Tony and Terri Loden. This month we'll focus on the Terri half.

I guess I would describe myself as kind of like a Rubik's Cube. I'm a puzzle to some people, but easy to solve when you know how. I'm colorful and have different sides to my personality.

My first introduction into the world of motorcycle riding was back when I was about 18 years old. It was on a Triumph, much like the one we raffled off at our Charity event this year. My girlfriend invited me to a concert where a friend of her's was the lead singer in a fairly well-known band in Detroit. After the concert, we were introduced and he told me he had a motorcycle and loved to ride and would I be interested in riding with him some day? My answer was yes and that was the start of many carefree and fun-filled days and nights on the back of that Triumph! I remember jumping on the back of the bike in my bathing suit, riding across town to Lake St. Clair, going for a swim, and back on the bike home in the same attire. I'm horrified at the thought of doing that now! Well, not really, but safety is definitely a priority.

Even though the relationship did not last, the fire was ignited and sooner or later all roads lead home.

After college and work, marriage and having raised a child, I mentioned to Tony that it would be fun to get a motorcycle and ride. I didn't have to say it twice! Within two months, we had a Harley in the garage and were planning trips all over the Midwest and elsewhere.

One of my favorite trips was our adventure in 2010 to Utah, Colorado, and Nevada. The scenery was breathtaking and the company was fabulous. We rode with a group that was much fun and kept me in stitches despite the many unpredictable challenges that came our way. Let's see: Encountering a hailstorm in the beginning of May is one that comes to mind. Taking time to hike through parts of the Grand Canyon during the day and having to ride that night in sub-freezing temps to get to our destination. Going through a dust storm so dense near Three Corners, Colorado that we couldn't see the bike in front of us. When we arrived at our hotel that night both our bodies and bikes were covered in 3 inches of dust. Funny how one thing leads to another. From riding on a motorcycle to the beach in a bathing suit, to wearing heated gear, helmet and gloves down a mountain in Flagstaff, Arizona!

It reminds me of a parable I came across recently:

A wise old farmer owned a trusty horse. One day the horse ran away into the hills. The villagers all rushed over and said, "Oh, what bad luck your horse has run away!" The farmer replied, "Bad luck, good luck, who knows?"

The next day, the horse returned from the hills and brought with it five beautiful wild horses. The villagers came to him and said, "Oh, what amazing good luck you have, now you've got lots of horses!" "Good luck, bad luck, who knows?" said the farmer.

The next day, the farmer's son was thrown from one of the wild horses he was training and broke his leg. The villagers came around again and said, "Oh, what bad luck-now your son can't help you out around the farm," and the farmer said, "Bad luck, good luck, who knows?"

The next day the Emperor's army came through the village and took away all the able-bodied young men to go fight in a war. They left behind the farmer's son, because he had a broken leg. The villagers rushed over and said...

I think you get the idea. One thing leads to another.

We're now planning a trip to the Pacific Coast Highway and a trip to ride down the Eastern Seaboard in the next two years!

(Safety PARTI Cont)

Road Surfaces – Always be aware of the road surfaces you are riding on and drive accordingly. Gravel requires care with speed so slow down! Use only your rear brake when slowing. Add more stopping distance than you even think is required. Asphalt requires much care when wet and especially after becoming wet in the last 20 minutes or less. The road oil will float on the water before getting washed away and can make the surface more slippery. Asphalt can also be slippery at extremes of temperature both cold and hot. And those wonderful little road repair lines which look like “veins”, also known as tar snakes are slippery almost all the time and should get your attention whenever the road is predominantly covered with them.

Train and Learn - Take a Top Cats Group Riding Safety Seminar. This is something you should do to learn the how-to's in operating your bike as safely as possible and while riding in groups. Continue your education and take a beginners or advanced motorcycle riding course, whichever you feel most comfortable in doing. There are many sources for courses such as your local Harley-Davidson dealerships, the Rider's Edge Training Course from Harley-Davidson as well as places in our area like LRN2RYD, a company run by one of our own Top Cats, Larry Scalzitti (see www.lyrn2ryd.com for more information). All of these are great sources for training. The point here is to train to learn and gain the knowledge.

Intersections – I had read before that 75% of all motorcycle accidents occur in intersections. Now I can't remember the source but to me it only is common sense that intersections with their opposing and crossing traffic are dangerous. You should always be on your guard when approaching and travelling through intersections. I always study the situation, decide on my actions and, if I am driving through the green light, shift my weight to cover my rear brake and my left hand to cover the horn. I want to be prepared as best I can to react for that guy that is trying to beat the yellow light or not following the law at all and zooming through a red light.

While being mindful of these principles is not a guarantee, you will lower your risk of being harmed and harming others while operating your motorcycle if you follow them. Continue to learn and practice. I believe Motorcycle safety is a continual process of improvement and applying what I learn.

Once Upon a Time...Bang! By Rich Flynn

Once upon a time a new Top Cat was riding with his wife in the rain...

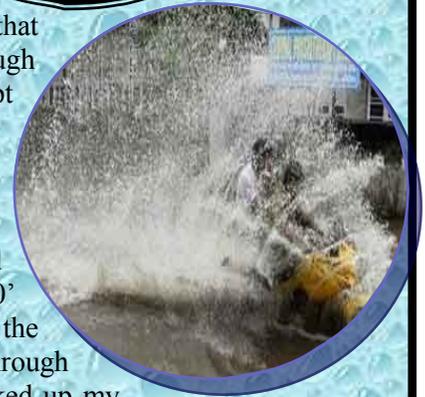

We were riding with another group, around 10 miles from home, about to finish our 160 mile day and down we went sliding into oncoming traffic.

That was me. As a new Top Cat the one thing that has been stressed time and time again by leaders and members is safety on the road. I know that I am a safe skilled rider so how did I lay the bike down. It is something I have thought long and hard about. Let's face it...we skidded into on - coming traffic! What if the guy that was coming at us did not stop? What if we had hit our heads? Yes if you have been riding long enough you have probably dumped your bike once or twice but where did I go wrong? How can I help someone else not do the same thing?

light and I assumed that they were going through the yellow so I kept pace. I saw their brake lights come on and then thought that they were going to make a quick stop. The lead rider saw there was a 20' by 20' metal plate in the road and continued through the yellow light. I locked up my brakes and went into a skid.

Here is what happened. We were riding in the rain and through a construction zone. I was riding two up with my wife. I am going to focus on construction zone safety in this article. I do believe that Gary Brandt's article "So It Looks Like Rain" is also very valid here.

Please read his article in ROAR (<http://www.topcats.org/rokdownloads/roar/175-roar-2012>) It is well written, interesting and may just save your life.

As we went down the front fender of the bike caught a lip in the road and launched me into oncoming traffic. The car in the oncoming lane sped up to beat the yellow light and almost hit us. I did not see the metal plate. I found out about it after the crash.

The plate was unmarked and hazardously placed right where anyone would start to brake. It was about 50' from the traffic light. The dirt from the construction and the rain made it very slippery. We were lucky and only had minor injuries.

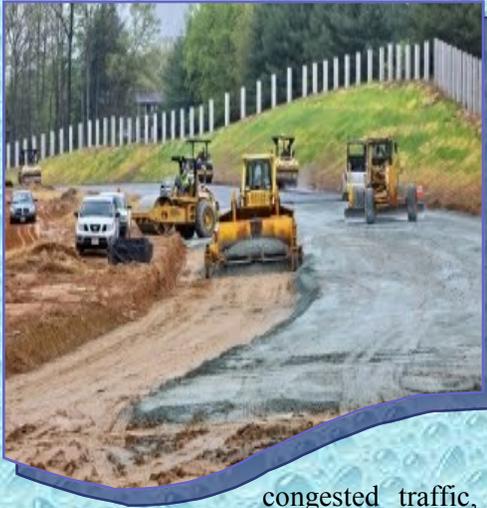

As I said we were riding through a construction zone in the rain. I did not leave enough room in between me and the bike in front of me. We were coming up to a stop

Bang...Contiued

So let's start with the first mistake. I didn't leave enough room between me and the lead bike to react safely. Always leave extra room in between you and the vehicle in front of you in a construction zone. People can be confused and have more on their minds in a construction zone. There is a lot that can be going on in a construction zone. There could be lane changes, congested traffic, big equipment and tons of road hazards. Always assume that the person in front of you is going to stop. Drive defensively and give plenty of room.

My second mistake was not paying attention to the road surface. In a construction zone the road surface can change in an instant. What are some surface conditions you may see? You might see sand, gravel, pavement crack filler, oil and many other hazards. Look at the road ahead pay attention to the road surface. Look for your best route ahead of time. Look further ahead than you normally would to look for hazards. Know the surface you are driving on. If you find yourself on a grooved surface don't fight the handle bars and keep a steady throttle. If you find yourself on wet steel avoid braking at all cost.

Always look for flaggers as they can give you advanced warning of upcoming dangers. Look out for workers near the edge of the road. A lot of accidents happen before or after a work zone when people are slowing down to merge or speeding up to resume non work - zone speed. So use caution before entering a work zone and as you are leaving a work zone.

I learned a lot from this incident; slow down in construction zones, look further ahead, keep more space in between bikes in inclement weather and avoid braking on slippery hazards.

No matter how long you have been riding it is very easy to let your guard down from time to time. Yes riding in the rain and through a construction zone has a million things that could go wrong but if you slow down and pay attention it is easy to avoid disaster. Learn from my mistakes and live to ride another day or you may be writing a saga titled "Once Upon a Time...Bang, Part 2."

TOPCATS ACTIVITIES

YOUR SOURCE FOR UPCOMING ENTERTAINMENT AND EVENTS

By TONY LODEN

Holy hill of beans... What a summer...

This past Friday marked the end of the meteorological summer, which runs from June 1-August 31. The calendar version of summer runs another three weeks until the autumnal equinox on Saturday, September 22.

As of the writing of this article we're currently at forty-three, yep 43 90-degree plus days and counting. Based on records dating back to 1871, Chicago's greatest number of days with temperatures in the 90s or higher stands at 47 - established back in 1988. By the end of August, we stand a good chance of being within a day or two of equaling that record and with September on the average recording three 90-degree days, a new record could be well within reach in 2012.

There is no doubt about it; the past year has brought some strange weather. From last year's hot summer, and accompanying droughts in the southern half of the country, to the winter that wasn't and the freak early spring heat wave that brought July-like temperatures to much of the country and this year's extraordinary Midwestern drought and summer heat wave into the 100's, many of you are scratching your heads, wondering what's going on. You may also be wondering what all of this will mean for the coming fall.

Here's what the National Weather Service's Climate Prediction Center has to say about the next three months... Those highly skilled climatologists with their multi-computer modeling systems are forecasting above average temperatures to continue in the Great Lakes region for the period from September 1 through November 30 with below normal precipitation.

Now with the summer's "too hot to ride" weather behind us, the forecasted riding temperatures should be moderate enough to fill our calendars with rides galore.

Also don't forget the monthly General Meetings on the first Tuesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. at eSkape Entertainment Center, located at 350 McHenry Road in, Buffalo Grove, IL.

Tony

So, looking at the upcoming event calendar for the next thirty days or so brings us some pretty good options... They include:

Sunday, September 2nd –
8:30 AM – 4:30 PM

Harley Davidson Museum (Peiffer)

Do something special this Labor Day weekend and enjoy the rally being held in Milwaukee. Join Russ Peiffer on his Road Captain debut for a 2-hour ride around Wisconsin before arriving at the Harley-Davidson Museum. After several hours there, including time to eat at one of the venues on-site, we will ride back home. End the summer with a great ride and an equally great destination. Open to all members and guests.

Saturday, September 8th –
8:00 AM – 7:00 PM

Cantigny Revolutionary War Re-enactment (Flynn)

Meet at the Shell Station at Rand And Lake Cook Road in Lake Zurich at 8:15 for a day that will celebrate American History. Not only will we get to see the war reenactment but the Robert R. McCormick Museum & First Division Museum are also there for us to enjoy. They also have some of the best gardens you can imagine. This is a family friendly event feel free to invite family, guests, and kids. Cars can follow us or meet us there. If you stay for the day, the return will be around 7:00pm. A great day!

Sunday, September 9th –
All Day

Progressive Dinner Ride (Kirkpatrick)

Thanks to the generosity of Noelle & Gene Rigsby (hors d'oeuvres), Theresa & Russ Peiffer (Soup & Salads), Joy & Larry Johnson (Main Course), and Mary Walters (Dessert), we will, once again, enjoy breaking bread with our brother and sister Top Cats. RSVPs are critical to our hosts as they prepare their feasts. Please respond to Wayne at wkirkpa177@aol.com before September 5th. Open to all members only.

Tuesday, September 18th –
6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Franks Fries (Scalzitti)

Once again our dog connoisseur Larry Scalzitti is still in search of that perfect Hot Dog... We're doing it again this year to search out that perfect dog, meet up with your motorcycling buddies, look at our bikes and talk about motorcycles. This month we will meet up at Papa Gus located at 454 N. Rand Rd. in Lake Zurich, Illinois.

Thursday, September 27th – Bikes Blues & BBQ (Open) Saturday, September 29

Rich & Betsy Dunkelburger (Our old friends from the Alex Johnson) have started a new venture in Fayetteville, Arkansas with the renovation of the old University Hilton/Cosmopolitan Hotel in the downtown historic district. The new hotel name will be The Chancellor Hotel and is scheduled to open in mid-September 2012, just before the rally. Why not start an annual ride to the beautiful Ozarks for this yearly rally?

- Illinois law states that when you change pipes in order to increase the noise level, you are violation of Illinois Law.
- George will only tell you if you pass or fail, but he will not let you know what exact decibels are registering from your bike. Reason? He doesn't want to add to the competition levels that are already a part of biking culture.

and a special invitation to attend the Bikes & Blues Fest in Fayetteville, AK. Check our web site for details.

As we ride toward the end of 2012, we have a lot to be proud of accomplishing during this year. We also have a lot to be proud of going into 2013, our 18th year. We will soon focus on Club elections, committee appointments, our Awards Banquet, winter activities, our annual road captain conference, and our 2013 Activities Schedule.

Now, remember, none of this is going to happen without you. There are many opportunities to get involved and, with the structure of our new Bylaws, plenty of incentive to do so.

Enjoy this month's activities, enjoy the camaraderie of your fellow Top Cats, enjoy riding and....take a second to thank those who continue to contribute to our success and enjoyment.

Let's roll,

Traveler

The View from the Back Seat....

By: Mary Walters

Many people have asked about the ride to Sturgis and why I didn't ride my own bike out. So, I thought I'd take a little bit of space to tell you all about it...AND to pay tribute to those who have always ridden two up. After twenty years of riding my own, I have come to find out that here are many good things about riding with someone else. It was definitely a surprisingly positive experience!

It started off a bit shaky.... Mainly because I forgot to ask the experts how to get all of the stuff that NEEDS to be taken for TWO on ONE bike? After a bit of shoving and smashing, it became apparent that the term 'need' had to be redefined. Once that was taken care of, the rest was easy!

The trip was awesome. If you have time, I have 1200 pictures to explain all that I got to see! At first, it was a very strange sensation to be 'out of control'. It was unsettling not to be throttling or changing gears. But within a few miles, I was leaning into turns comfortably and feeling at ease with 'no hands'. It was then that I realized how much I may have been missing all of these years. Hence—1200 pictures! I was able to look around and see not only the view ahead, but to each side and sometimes even behind....

It was a great experience. We met some interesting people in Sturgis, visited friends in Colorado, went to Angel Fire, New Mexico- to a military Memorial, drank Sasparilla in Dodge City, and then came on home. It was fun to be able to point out views, comment on sites, and hold a hand every so often—while riding! NEVER did that before! It was really special to be able to experience all of these places WITH someone. The shadow picture has become one of my favorites!

AND to finish... Thanks to all of the ladies in the club that gave me advice on how to 'do it'. The pegs up, the cushion, the leg stretch—all became valuable advice about mile 200! Over 4100 miles later, I am very grateful, because you gave me a few extra tools that helped to make this my favorite trip - with some very special memories!

It would never have been the same on my own bike... Even if it is a Harley!
